Welcome!

Issue 14 · 7 – 13 Apr 2018

You have to give it to the soaps – they certainly know how to take you completely by surprise.

No, I'm not talking about the shock of Corrie's Phelan being alive and well (sorry for the spoiler if you've been watching on catch-up). We've all been enjoying soaps for a long time, so we knew there had to be another chapter in the twisted tale of Pat Phelan (see our news story on p12 for more on that!).

"The soaps know how to surprise!"

No, what I'm talking about are the genuine 'What the blazes just happened?!!' kind of surprises, like the one on p17. Ladies and gents, Inside Soap proudly presents Roy Cropper wrestling Nigel Havers to the ground in a pavement brawl, while delighted Gail Rodwell quite literally puts the boot in! It has to be seen to be believed.

Corrie, you are spoiling us, so keep the surprises coming – be they high drama or rather surreal comedy, we love 'em!

Josh isn't pleased to see furious David step into the ring

David finally EXPLODES!

CORONATION STREET | ITV MONDAY

HIS RAPE ANGUISH HAS DANGEROUS CONSEQUENCES...

Like Britton's memorial boxing match almost ends in another death this week – as David unleashes his pent-up anger on his opponent Gary.

Having contained his agony following his rape by abuser Josh, David is wound up like coiled spring. So when Tyrone pulls out of his match with Gary, David is quick to step in, despite GP Ali's medical advice that his epilepsy rules him out – and fight co-ordinator Josh has no choice but to watch as the consequences of his evil attack are played out in the ring.

"Josh doesn't want David to be anywhere near this event," explains Ryan Clayton, who plays him. "So when Tyrone withdraws from the bout, it's the first time people at work see a different side to him.

Gary stands no chance
as David violently
attacks him

It doesn't look good for Gary as he collapses to the floor - will he pull through?

Seconds out! As the bout gets under way, David launches his attack

➤ FROM PREVIOUS PAGE

"The calm, jovial lad who will help anyone out flips at Tyrone for the first time because of the stress of organising the boxing event. What he did to David has gotten to Josh, so when David comes along and says, 'I'll do it,' he loses his rag."

But Josh has no choice when David puts on his gloves and barges past him to face Gary – leaving the crowd in disbelief as the fella launches a furious attack on his sister's boyfriend, with no regard for the rules. Sarah is distraught to see her brother act so violently towards the man she loves, and Gary is rushed to hospital. But while David's behaviour is bad news for Gary, it's great news for Josh – who now has a room full of people who have turned against his victim.

"Josh is revelling in it," admits Ryan. "This is more ammunition for Josh to prove that David is full of rubbish if anything ever came out. If David is the type of person to do that, then he is obviously unhinged."

At the hospital, things don't look good for poor Gary when Sarah is told that he has a bleed on the brain. It's touch-and-go, but Gary pulls through – and having been given a second chance at life, he's quick to seize it. It's clear he and Sarah are deeply in love, so Gary asks Sarah if she'll marry him, and she happily accepts. In the meantime,

Sarah and co look mortified as Gary is beaten half to death

however, she has disowned her brother and told Gail that she can no longer live in the same house as him.

What's happened between David and Gary has changed the game, and it seems there's every chance Josh can use this to his advantage. He's keen to make a life in Weatherfield – and he has Alya in his sights...

"The boxing match is a chance to get closer to Alya," warns Ryan. "It keeps him involved with everyone – and the more involved he is, the more likely it is that people won't believe anything bad said about him. Josh is being tactical – it's a familiar game that abusers like him play."

Kate White

DAVID HOOKED ON DRUGS?

Ali learns some shocking information regarding what really happened at the boxing match this week – and confronts David about what he knows!

The local GP is prompted to take troubled David to one side after Zeedan finds a used needle at the venue. Following investigation, Ali concludes that the needle was used to take steroids – and that's why David went berserk when he and Gary started their match.

"David agrees to meet Ali at the Rovers, where he's invited to open up about what's troubling him," says our Weatherfield insider. "But with David reluctant to confide in the doctor, Ali decides to ask him straight out if he has taken steroids. David is quick to make it clear that he's not touched the drug in his life, though, and tells Ali that he ought to be looking for answers from someone else at the boxing match.

The locals worry as a needle is discovered...

adds our source. "He wants to know what made him lose control. However, it seems increasingly unlikely he'll ever get to the truth of it..."

With advice from solicitor Imran to plead not guilty on the grounds that he didn't understand the rules of boxing, David prepares to face the world – though still fails to speak out about the true story behind his turmoil. And after seeing David clearly remorseful at the hospital, Shona begs him to be honest about whether steroids are to blame – only for him to deny it once again.

Will David speak out before he is sent to prison for assaulting Gary?

What is Charity's big secret?

SHE DROPS A HUGE BOMBSHELL THAT LEAVES VANESSA REELING...

Charity reveals a shocking secret about her past this week – and it's going to leave viewers gobsmacked!

The truth about her dark history comes to light as she supports fellow villager Tracy through the sentencing of vile sex-pest Phil. But the experience leaves Charity very shaken indeed – prompting her to open up to Vanessa about her own ordeal...

"Charity's past comes back to haunt her via Tracy," reveals Emma Atkins, who plays Charity. "She went through some kind of serious abuse when she was 14. It involves the character of DC Bails – there's an ominous history between them which I don't know if viewers will remember. But it explains a lot about why Charity behaves the way she behaves."

The week kicks off with Tracy desperately trying to put her horrific dealings with vile Phil behind her, as she waits to find out if he'll be sent to jail for his crimes. However, she's rattled when she receives an abusive letter – and then finds a teen spraying an offensive message on the wall of Farrers Barn! But who is this girl and what does she want?

Meanwhile, Charity is on hand to offer some unlikely support as Tracy heads to court. However, after Vanessa questions her girlfriend's reaction to a moment during proceedings, she's not prepared for the murky secret Charity unleashes.

"Vanessa is shocked by what she hears," explains Michelle Hardwick, aka Vanessa, as she takes up the story. "Charity hasn't told anyone else. It's a real 'Oh my God' moment, because Vanessa has all of that on her shoulders. She doesn't know how to react, so will she do something that jeopardises their relationship?"

We know Charity's revelation has something to do with the abuse she suffered as a girl – but could there be more to it?

"I think the past will just keep coming," muses Emma. "I don't think it's going to stop here – it's not like the history comes out in one episode and then it's dealt with. It's an ongoing trauma.

"I knew Charity had an ugly past, but I didn't know the extent of the abuse and how bad it was," she adds. "Reading the scripts, though, it all makes sense. This is an amazing opportunity for me to delve into Charity's history. It'll be exposing and upsetting..."

Sarah Ellis

Tracy is appalled by this girl and the venom she's spraying

“I enjoy playing the broken side of Tracy!”

Amy Walsh reveals all on alter ego Tracy’s courtroom agony...

Tracy was preyed upon by vile Phil

What is Tracy hoping to get from Phil’s sentencing?

She wants justice, and she wants to make sure that he’s not able to do that to anyone else. When it comes out that there’s another woman who’s stepped forward to say he did the same thing, it gives Tracy the strength to forge ahead with the court case. She gets quite passionate about protecting vulnerable women.

Is Tracy surprised when Charity offers her some support?

Yeah, I think she’s quite shocked. At the time she doesn’t know anything about Charity’s past, so it does seem odd that she’s so emotional. But I don’t think Tracy is suspicious or anything – she’s moved by how supportive Charity is being.

How are things between Tracy and David at the moment?

It’s a bit difficult, actually, because the one person Tracy wants there on her court day is her husband. And she has to face him – she has to explain why his front door has been spray-painted with graffiti. He mentions coming to court, and she says, “No, it’s fine, my sister and my dad are taking me”. It’s pretty sad, really, and quite emotional.

What would you like to see happen next for Tracy?

I do enjoy playing the broken side of her! Part of me wants to see her self-destruct again, because that’s fun to play. I suppose eventually I’d love for her and David to work it out, but that’s the romantic in me. I don’t know how possible that might turn out to be...

The old spark reignited!

WILL PHIL CHEAT ON SHARON WITH MEL?

Hunter puts the moves on Louise for very nasty reasons

Phil is on the warpath this week, furious that Hunter slept with Louise just to get at him. But will it pave the way for his own romantic faux pas?

All hell breaks loose as the raging Mitchell man cuts down everyone in his path to find the wicked teen, prompting Hunter's worried mother Mel to step in and do whatever is necessary to save her son.

It's a charm offensive Phil doesn't see coming. Mel plays on their history and flirts up a storm with her former flame, goading him into making a move on her – which he does...

"Mel is as gorgeous as ever, and Phil has always been infatuated by her," our Walford insider reminds us. "He has an amazing wife in Sharon – a woman who has always held the key to his heart – but there is an attraction to Mel that Phil has never been able to resist."

The drama unfolds after Phil sees CCTV footage from E20 showing his daughter romping with Hunter. He experiences all the emotions that any father with a 16-year-old daughter would, upon discovering that she is sexually active – and Hunter rubs salt in the wound by winking at the security camera, having intended for Lou's dad to see them together.

"Steve Owen's rivalry with Phil led to his death, so Hunter is determined to avenge his father," says our spy. "If you remember that Steve once slept with Phil's sister Sam to get back at his nemesis, it's clear the apple hasn't fallen far from the tree. Hunter pursuing Louise has almost been like history repeating itself."

After watching the video, angry Phil heads to the club tooled up with a baseball bat. Mel and Sharon's launch party is still in full swing, so you can imagine the commotion as Phil comes charging in, leaving a trail of destruction in his wake as he searches for Hunter.

It falls to Sharon to try to calm down her fella – although she is equally appalled when Phil plays her back the footage

"Hunter pursuing Lou has been like history repeating itself..."

FESTIVE FLING!

Mel and Phil's first liaison proved to be a Christmas cracker...

For readers who aren't familiar with Phil and Mel's convoluted romantic history, let Inside Soap transport you back to 25 December 2000...

Trouble had been brewing between Mel and her best friend Lisa Shaw, who was in a relationship with Phil at the time – while his rivalry with Mel's fella Steve was hotting up. As events came to a head, Lisa lost her rag and threw wine all over Mel, who ended up back at Phil and Lisa's home to change her clothes. However, Mel had a little help slipping out of her vino-soaked dress as Phil made his move – and the pair became frisky against the fridge before heading to the bedroom!

Guilt-ridden Mel immediately regretted hooking up with Phil, but the cocky Mitchell hard man insisted that she "loved it". Is he still confident that she can't get enough of him? We're not so sure that's the case...

Worried Mel follows raging Phil into the club offices of Hunter and Louise, proving the lad's intentions towards his daughter were not honourable. However, Sharon has a cooler head on her shoulders than her hubby, and manages to reason with Phil. She warns Hunter to never again disrespect Louise – but is he done using her?

Meanwhile, Mel stays behind at the club with Phil and puts her desperate plan into action. She turns on the seduction, and it's not long before Phil buckles under the pressure and is leaning in for a kiss...

Is Mel really ready to start up their fling again to save her son? And is Phil prepared to risk everything he has with Sharon for another shot with Mel?

PHELAN'S FINAL REVENGE!

The biggest battle is yet to come...

CORONATION STREET

Inside Soap can reveal exclusively that Phelan's reign of terror on the cobbles is far from over!

Jaws hit the floor across the nation when his wife Eileen finally discovered that she was married to a murderer, as a dramatic showdown saw her hubby fess up to killing Michael Rodwell, Andy Carver, Vinny Ashworth and Luke Britton.

For a few agonising moments, it looked as if Phelan would claim Eileen as his fifth victim, but a shock twist saw him tumble over a cliff – with his appalled wife seemingly finishing the job as she stamped on his hands, sending him into the sea.

However, the biggest surprise was to come, as we later witnessed Phelan tending to his wounds at a B&B – confirming that he had survived the fall and is now hell-bent on revenge...

"Phelan clearly has more lives than a cat," gasps our Street mole. "He escaped a concrete grave and survived a fall into the waves. But everything has now changed – with police crawling all over the cobbles, he can't return yet. However, there is a long list of people he blames for his downfall, and he won't be able to keep away forever..."

We didn't think for one second that the brutish builder would go down without a fight, so the stage is set for a final battle with those who've crossed him. All we can say is, 'Watch out, Weatherfield!'

Meanwhile, poor Eileen has been arrested on suspicion of two counts of murder and assisting an offender – with many Coronation Street locals forced to wonder whether she may have known more about her hubby's killing spree than she was letting on.

If the police decide that she was involved, is Eileen set to pay the ultimate price for Phelan's crimes? Or is prison a safer bet, given that her wicked spouse is gunning to return and settle a few scores?

PHELAN'S HIT LIST!

Who else is in the firing line?

TIM

Tim sparked the beginning of the end for Phelan when he tricked him into confessing to the property scam – with Eileen listening in. And no one dupes Pat Phelan and lives to tell the tale...

GARY & SEB

It was Gary and Seb's determination to expose Phelan that led to them discovering Andy and Vinny's bodies. And Phelan might have got away with it if it weren't for those pesky kids...

NICOLA

Phelan disowned his daughter weeks ago, after she tried to expose him. Deep down he still loves Nicola, but there's every chance the twisted brute will want to take her down with him in one final blaze of glory...

ANNA

There is no one whom Phelan hates more than Anna, who's been in jail since he framed her for GBH. News of his crimes will surely help to clear her name – but will Anna suffer further if Phelan decides to finish her off for good?

CARMEL'S AGONY!

Shakil stabbed to death in Walford knife terror?

Sneak
ON-SET PICS!

Police arrive to break up the brawl - but is it too late for Shaki?

EASTENDERS

Tragedy looks set to cast a dark shadow over Albert Square, with the news that Keegan and Shakil are going to be victims of knife crime.

EastEnders bosses announced that the soap would be tackling the hard-hitting subject, working with former cast member Brooke Kinsella MBE, whose brother Ben was fatally stabbed in June 2008.

Pictures have since emerged of stars Zak Morris (aka Keegan) and Shaheen Jafargholi (who plays Shakil) filming some very dramatic and emotional scenes on location, where the teenagers appear to find themselves at the centre of a huge brawl with a gang of youths.

However, it's this snap of Shakil's distraught mother Carmel (played by Bonnie Langford) with injured Keegan that really has us worried. Does the notable absence of her lad suggest he doesn't survive the attack?

"The brutal reality of knife crime was brought home to all at EastEnders with the tragic murder of Ben," explains the show's executive consultant, John Yorke. "Brooke [who played Zoe Slater's mate Kelly Taylor from 2001 to 2004] began an inspiring campaign to bring attention to the awful consequences – a campaign that continues to this day.

"EastEnders has a long tradition of tackling serious public issues, and this is one of the most important the show has ever embarked on. The episodes are powerful, heartbreaking and dramatic – and we hope they will help carry on Brooke's message, while making it clear that knife crime destroys the lives of all it touches."

As the storyline unfolds, viewers will witness huge ramifications for all involved, as the Square locals try to comprehend the gravity of what has happened on their doorstep. The plot will air later this spring.

FRESH DRAMA FOR MICK!

Halfway and brother Stuart to cause chaos for the Carters...

Walford will become home to a new band of brothers when popular fella Callum 'Halfway' Highway returns from Army duty to Albert Square, and is later joined by his older sibling, Stuart. But while EastEnders viewers will know what to expect from hapless Halfway, Stuart is far more of a mystery – and he spells trouble for his childhood friend, Mick...

"Mick is pleased to see his old pal, however the temptation to revert to their younger selves will see them getting up to no good," grins our Albert Square insider. "Stuart is a very bad influence on Mick, so it will be interesting to see how his arrival goes down with Linda and the rest of the Carter family!"

Meanwhile, Halfway is sure to want to pick up where he left off with love interest Whitney – but do they have a future together?

Actor Tony Clay is to reprise the role of Halfway, while Game Of Thrones star Ricky Champ will be playing Stuart.

LUKE'S NEW RAPE HORROR!

His son Ollie is in danger...

Hollyoaks is soon to be exploring a challenging issue, following the recent announcement that teenager Ollie Morgan will be at the heart of a sexual abuse story.

Luke's son will be targeted by his football coach Buster, who will take advantage of his trusted position in order to groom Ollie as the innocent lad struggles to adjust to his new life in the village.

"While the backdrop of this story is football, the issue itself is far broader," explains Hollyoaks executive producer, Bryan Kirkwood. "We hope that the story will encourage all children and young adults to speak out if they ever find themselves in Ollie's situation."

The soap is working closely with the charity Survivors Manchester on the story – while star Aedan Duckworth, who plays Ollie, is taking support and advice from his screen dad Gary Lucy, whose character Luke was the victim of the show's ground-breaking male rape plot back in 2000.

Buster will abuse his position of trust to groom Ollie

LEWIS COMES A CROPPER!

Roy to the rescue as the con man resurfaces...

CORRIE

Fraudster Lewis Archer has been on the run since fleecing Gail – but he'll receive his comeuppance after Roy makes a citizen's arrest!

These hilarious snaps – showing returning Corrie star Nigel Havers on location – suggest that Roy apprehends Lewis after swiping the villain's keys and wrestling him to the ground.

"We haven't seen Roy this fired up since Tony Gordon threatened his beloved bats," smirks our spy. "Lewis may have the gift of the gab, but there's no talking his way out of this one!"

Lewis' capture will come as a huge relief to swindled Audrey and Gail, the latter of whom appears to be lashing out with a satisfying kick! The question is: will justice finally be done once Lewis is in custody – or will he manage to wriggle off the hook yet again?

Watch out, Lewis – these women mean business!

Ross to check out?

Michael Parr has cast doubt on his future with Emmerdale. When asked by Lorraine Kelly if he'd stick with the show, he said, "For now" – after expressing his desire to return to the theatre. Nooo!

Jim returns?

There's a well-loved character heading back to the Street, according to Corrie chief Kate Oates – and Charles Lawson (Jim McDonald) is tipped to be the fella in question. "I couldn't possibly comment," teased the actor.

Soap swap!

In other Corrie news, former Dales star Ryan Prescott – who played Aaron's love interest Flynn Buchanan in 2011 – will be taking over the role of Michelle Connor's other son, Ryan. The actor has already begun filming on the cobbles.

Soap SPY...

Ross opens up to Rhona

AS RHONA HELPS ROSS WITH HIS PAINKILLER ADDICTION, WILL SHE TELL HIS BROTHER PETE?

EMMERDALE | ITV THURSDAY

Ross and Rhona strike up an unlikely bond this week, as she gets him to admit that he has a problem with painkillers.

Having been to hell and back with an addiction to pills herself, Rhona understands only too well the torment Ross is going through – so after she finds a pile of pill packets, she wastes no time confronting him. But can Rhona persuade Ross to seek help, and will she find herself torn as she keeps Ross' problem from her partner Pete?

"Ross is crumbling," sighs our Emmerdale sneak. "In the weeks since the acid attack, he's been in unrelenting pain. That's not to mention the mental agony his scarring has caused, so it's no surprise that he's come to depend on his medication. Thank goodness, then, that someone as rational and understanding as Rhona is the one who works out what he's been dealing with for so long."

At the start of the week, fragile Ross is desperate to top up his supply of painkillers – so he's relieved when he finds some among Rebecca's things, tiding him over until an appointment with Dr Cavanagh the next day. There he finds out his infection has healed – but he insists that he needs a new prescription anyway. However, while Dr Cavanagh agrees to an extra week's worth of pills, it doesn't take long for Rhona to realise what's going on and question Ross about the number of tablets he's been taking...

"Rhona finds the empty pill packets while staying over with her boyfriend Pete," says our insider. "Her own experience with an addiction alerts her to the fact that all is not well with Ross, and she confronts him about taking so many pills. His furious reaction tells her all she needs to know – so when Ross orders her out of the house, she sneaks his tablets out with her."

Without his medication, Ross is forced to track down Rhona, giving her the perfect opportunity to persuade him to open up. He eventually does so, and she's left in no doubt that he's going through a similar trauma to her own – and that he must speak to Dr Cavanagh before things spiral right out of control. Is Ross brave enough to admit he has a problem, though?

"While Rhona realises that Ross has no other option if he wants to kick his dependence, she's also aware of how hard it will be to take that step," shares our informant. "It's the last thing Ross feels like he can cope with at the moment, and she knows that. But the fact is, Rhona also knows better than anyone that if Ross doesn't reach out now, it could soon be too late..."

"Rhona's experience with an addiction alerts her to Ross' problem"

Allison Jones

Ross can't get through the day without his painkillers...

ADDICTED TO LOVE!

Could romance be in store for the pair?

While Ross is at his most vulnerable, Rhona's support is set to prove invaluable in the coming weeks. And while she'll naturally do her utmost to help him, this is soap – so there's every chance their understanding could prompt a deeper bond between the pair!

The problem is, Rhona is currently dating Ross' brother Pete, while Ross has been renewing his bond with former lover Rebecca. Would that be enough to stop something developing, though? Likewise, Rhona should know a lot better than to jeopardise Ross' recovery with a new and controversial relationship – but when did sense ever prevail in the Dales?

...but Rhona understands exactly what the warning signs are telling her

Linda and Mick have their own opinions on Woody's return

EASTENDERS | BBC1 THURSDAY

Woody's back – for Whitney!

BUT CAN SHE FORGIVE HIM FOR THE WAY HE DUMPED HER?

Whitney is horrified to come face to face with her former fiancé Woody this week, five months after he fled to Spain with barely a word of explanation.

He claims vehemently to still be in love with Whit – but can Woody's weasel words manage to heal her heart?

"Five months have passed since Woody did a bunk," our Walford snitch reminds us.

"Woody didn't have the guts to tell Whitney he was off"

"And if you remember, he didn't even have the guts to tell Whitney to her face that he was leaving. Instead he scrawled a childish note on an envelope: 'Whit! You'll be better off HERE! Sorry, Woody' – and not so much as a kiss at the end of it! While Whitney would admit that her heart hadn't exactly been in the relationship, she certainly deserved better than that."

So when she spots her ex again this week, Whitney does her level best to avoid him – not an easy task in Albert Square, as there's nowhere to hide! However, after Woody eventually tracks her down, he pours on the charm. He brings flowers, and declares that he's still deeply in love with Whit and hasn't thought about anyone else during his time managing a bar in Spain. A likely story!

No less shocked to see Woody again are his former bosses Mick and Linda, who are left wincing at his efforts to sweet-talk his way back into his ex's life. And while Linda and Whitney have had their differences thanks to Whit's ill-judged crush on Mick, Linda has assumed a kind of maternal interest in Whit's life – thanks in no small part to all her own kids having left home recently.

"Linda doesn't want Whitney to jeopardise her relationship with Halfway," explains our spy. "As Linda sees it, Halfway may be an halfwit, but he doesn't have a devious bone in his body and is, in his own hopeless way, a better catch than Woody. So Linda sits Whitney down to make sure her head isn't turned by her former love."

Meanwhile Woody, who is casting about for work, learns there's a manager position

CORONATION STREET | ITV MONDAY

Will Aidan be successful at the helm of Underworld?

CAN AIDAN HANDLE THE PRESSURE?

Aidan stepped up when poorly Carla needed him most

Stunned Aidan is given a birthday surprise to remember this week – when Carla signs over Underworld to him.

The gobsmacked fella is in disbelief after his grateful sister shows her appreciation for him donating her a kidney by making him the sole proprietor of the factory. The gesture is designed to help Aidan finally establish himself as a force to be reckoned with in the textiles industry – but while he's blown away by Carla's generous move, he has reservations too.

"This is a massive moment in Aidan's life, and everyone expects him to feel on top of the world," says our Corrie snoop. "Carla knows Aidan saved her life by donating his kidney, and she's determined to make a big impact on his future as well. Being the boss at Underworld and having all that responsibility is a daunting task, though – and Aidan isn't sure if he's up to the job."

The irony is that ever since the whole debacle with Eva, the committed bloke has been trying to get the business up and running again. He's shown grit and determination in the face of many obstacles, and now his Underworld dreams are a reality at last. And with the Connors ready to celebrate as they join Aidan for his birthday do in the Bistro, they're thrilled to witness Carla present him his gift. The next day, however, Johnny sees Aidan looking glum and wants to know what's up – which is when his struggling son reveals his fears.

"Johnny has shared some harsh words with Aidan over the past year, but he believes he'll be a brilliant boss," reckons our source. "All Aidan has to do is be focused – and he starts by offering a £50 bonus for the factory's fastest machinist."

With Johnny pleased to see Aidan getting into the role, might his boy make it work after all?

Robert turns model!

BUT WILL HE GO THROUGH WITH THE PHOTO SHOOT?

Robert receives a massive ego boost this week – when he's asked to model for a calendar.

The hunky chef is tickled pink when he's scouted at the boxing match being held in memory of Luke, where he's asked if he's willing to take part in a photo shoot.

Michelle is delighted that her man is in demand, but worries that Robert hasn't properly investigated what the calendar is for before posing for it. The next day, when the photographer shows Robert a mock-up of his picture in the calendar, his partner's fears appear to be well-founded.

"The shoot is for a cancer charity, and Robert is very sensitive about what he's been through," sighs our Coronation Street insider. "Michelle knows how dark things got for Robert, and how traumatised he still is about losing his father to the disease. When he sees what's really going on, Robert is stunned. It's not what he expected at all."

The next day, after the calendar malarkey is over, Michelle arrives to meet Carla with bruises all over her wrists. When her worried friend wants to know what happened, giggly Michelle tells her that Robert got a bit carried away in the heat of passion, and dismisses it as nothing. However, Carla isn't convinced, and wants to know what Robert is up to.

"Michelle is Carla's priority, and she's worried that her best mate will get hurt," admits our snitch. "She's seen things she doesn't like in Robert, and she's not afraid to challenge him. And when she corners him to demand to know what's going on, she won't take 'no comment' for an answer!"

Confronted by Carla, will Robert tell her the truth?

THE STRAIN OF LAUREL'S AFFAIR IS STARTING TO TAKE ITS TOLL...

Scorned Brenda's scheming has Laurel and Bob at loggerheads this week – prompting Bob's secret lover to move back towards the booze.

With Laurel growing suspicious that Brenda knows just what's been happening between them, she fears the game is up. But with Brenda still pretending everything is fine – while secretly knowing exactly what's been going on – Laurel's paranoia is eating her up. And following an argument with Bob, the former alcoholic ends up reaching for the whisky...

"This is terrible news for Laurel – she's already had to rebuild her life because of her battle with the demon drink," whispers our Dales spy. "If she succumbs and falls back into that terrible spiral, Laurel could destroy everything. Brenda has every right to hate her for what she's done, but would even she wish this on Laurel?"

The week begins with Bob convinced that Brenda knows what's been going on, after he accidentally left his coat at Laurel's house and Arthur returned it to Brenda. But when devious Brenda continues to play dumb to put Bob off the scent, he falls for it – and is convinced she knows nothing.

"Brenda has become good at playing the dutiful wife-to-be," says our insider. "Before now, it was blind determination to hang on to Bob, hoping if she tried hard enough it would be fine. But now she knows that's impossible, she's shifting tactics. She's enjoying keeping Bob and Laurel guessing..."

As Bob and Laurel argue over their relationship, the strain of their secret leads to a massive row, with furious Laurel ordering him out of her house before breaking down. Close to cracking, she sees the whisky – but what will she do?

The next day, Laurel is stunned when the police arrive with the information that will prove to Bob that she's right about Brenda. They explain that all the purchases made by the 'thief' on her bank card recently were delivered to the

Hello, baby Dingle-Kirk!

CHAS AND PADDY HAVE THEIR FIRST SCAN...

Parents-to-be Chas and Paddy have an emotional experience this week – as they go to their first scan together.

Having decided to keep their surprise baby following weeks of turmoil, it's a big moment for them both as they arrive at the sonographer's room to see their child for the first time.

Although Chas is already mum to Aaron, this is a very different experience from her first pregnancy, and she's glad to have Paddy by her side. He's overjoyed that Chas has asked him to go with her to this early appointment, and that she's as excited at having this baby as he is – so it's a lovely moment as the sonographer moves the ultrasound probe across Chas' tiny bump, and she and Paddy get to see their little one.

For Paddy, this is a big deal as he's never been through this before with his biological child. He became a father figure to Aaron when Chas' son was a teenager, and although he's been around for all of Leo's life, he had to share the role of daddy with Leo's biological dad Marlon.

But while it's an exciting time for the couple, they crash back down to earth when Chas feels nauseous again. She's having a rotten time with morning sickness, and Paddy feels terrible that he can't do much to soothe her. So, with Chas beside herself with the misery and Paddy flapping around, will the pair manage to get through the pregnancy?

AS HE STRUGGLES TO ORGANISE JOYCE'S FUNERAL, THINGS GO FROM BAD TO WORSE...

EASTENDERS | BBC1 THURSDAY

Grieving Ted attacked!

Ted is at his wits' end this week, after he's callously mugged while preparing to lay his late wife to rest.

Ted is already struggling to find enough cash to pay for Joyce's forthcoming funeral, before a heartless thug attacks him on Turpin Road and steals his wallet. But as his friends and neighbours rally round, will shaken Ted find the funds he needs to give his wife a decent send-off?

"Poor Ted is devastated enough – he doesn't need this stress!" cries our Walford spy. "He and Joyce have never been well off, so to then have money literally ripped from his hands is too much for Ted to bear. He's already unsure about how he'll afford a fitting farewell for Joyce – so when the thief takes off with his wallet, which was a gift from Joyce, Ted is left shattered."

Luckily, his upstairs neighbours the Taylors have proved indispensable since Joyce's passing – particularly after the fractured nature of his relationship with daughter Judith was revealed during her recent visit. As this terrible week for Ted begins, Bernie remains by his side doing all she can to help her elderly pal – and when he visits undertaker Jay to talk about his options for Joyce's funeral, he has both Bernadette and Karen on hand for support.

Ted mourns his deceased wife

However, after Jay reveals the cost of his services, distraught Ted admits that he can't afford it – and, despite pawning some of Joyce's jewellery, he's still skint. At this point, kindly Karen turns to the Vic punters to reveal his plight – but while the locals dig deep, the robber strikes Ted...

"After Ted's mugger makes off on a bike, Hayley Slater is first on the scene," shares our sneak. "He's touched as she offers him the cash to buy a cup of tea – but this disaster is still the final straw as far as Ted is concerned. He's in a dreadful state when Jay arrives to take Joyce's body to the crematorium later, and as he heads home alone, his face says it all. He's lost without his wife." Meanwhile, Karen hasn't given up on making things right for her mate. So as she works on the Walford residents to put Ted's mind at rest, can crafty Karen come through for him? And can Ted ever find a way to cope with his grief?

Milo's mystery visitor!

WHO IS THEO?
AND WILL HE REVEAL
MILO'S SECRET?

Tony has been hot on Milo's tail for weeks

Milo gets a nasty surprise this week, when he comes face to face with a mysterious man called Theo – but who is this guy and what does he want?

"I can't reveal too much, but Theo is somebody from Milo's past," teases Nathan Morris, who plays Milo. "Milo isn't a big fan of Theo, so he's not particularly pleased to see him! Theo starts to put pressure on Milo – he knows certain aspects of Milo's past and will use that against him..."

Prior to his meeting with Milo, Theo rocks up in the village and straight away bumps into

Cindy will crumble if she learns who Milo really is Cindy. He takes a shine to her, and it's not long before he's making a pass – but what would overprotective Milo say about that if he found out?

"Milo wouldn't be pleased about that at all!" chuckles

Nathan. "He thinks Theo is bad news. As we've seen in the past, if anyone comes along who Milo doesn't feel is good enough for the family, he'll try his best to get them out of the picture. He's just trying to look out for Cindy and the rest of the Cunninghams."

While we're keeping mum about the exact connection between Milo and Theo, it's very possible that Theo could know about Milo's dark secret – that he was responsible for killing Mr and Mrs Cunningham! So could the truth be about to tumble out thanks to Theo's arrival?

"I'm surprised Milo has managed to keep it all quiet for this long!" reckons Nathan.

"Most of the viewers do want the secret to come out, but I think they're worried about what the consequences will be for Milo if it does. They don't want him to be kicked out of the Cunningham family and have to leave Hollyoaks!"

So far, Milo has shown a knack for talking himself out of trouble – and even the machinations of Finn and Tony haven't managed to expose him! So if Theo is the one to turn Milo's world upside down, Nathan hopes the Cunninghams will go easy on the poor fella...

"Milo has made a lot of mistakes, but he's not well," sighs the star. "He hasn't properly dealt with his past, so he has a lot of issues. He does genuinely care about Cindy and her family, and he's tried to look out for them. What Milo needs is somebody to look after him – it's just a shame that Theo is not going to be that person!"

LOVE FOR MILO?

He needs some romance in his life...

"The top tweet I get from viewers is, 'Will Milo ever find love?'" reveals Nathan. "He's not a Lothario – when it comes to romance, he doesn't have a clue! Some people think that Milo is in love with Cindy, but he just loves her like a member of his family.

He hasn't got designs on her. A girlfriend for him would be nice – he needs a distraction from obsessing about things all the time!"

Stacey on the warpath!

MARTIN, MO, HAYLEY AND MEL MANAGE TO GET ON HER WRONG SIDE...

Stacey gets more and more annoyed with her own family this week – as the Slater clan continue to create waves in Albert Square. But while she's still smarting over the debacle surrounding Kat's 'death', what's going on between her and Martin?

The week starts off quite well for Stacey, as she is pleasantly surprised when her estranged husband Martin tells her that he is going to increase his monetary contributions to the kids' welfare. However, her happiness proves to be very short-lived. As she goes to thank him, she spots him flirting with Mel Owen, sending her into a jealous rage.

"Poor Stacey keeps going from one extreme to the other," sighs our Walford informant. "There's clearly still a spark between her and Martin, and it really did look as if they might be back on track after they slept together a couple of weeks ago. Despite the fact that Stacey tried to pass it off as 'grief sex', it's clear she's not ready to give up on her husband altogether. So when she spots him cosying up with Mel, she sees red! True to form, she kicks up a stink in public, embarrassing everyone."

As if that wasn't bad enough, Stacey is getting even more frustrated by Mo's increasingly barmy schemes to make money – which include teaming up with cunning Hayley for yet another new business venture. The scheme is, of course, more than a little dodgy – and that doesn't impress Stacey one bit.

"Even though Stacey herself reluctantly plotted with Hayley a while back, when she was trying to discredit Martin, she really doesn't like this new Slater girl," explains our snitch. "After all, she appeared from nowhere – what does Stacey really know about her? And to make matters worse for Stacey, Hayley is now getting her claws into the rest of her family. As far as Stacey is concerned, it crosses a line, and she has a bad feeling about it all."

Stacey's instincts about Hayley seem to be correct, as Kat soon spots the newcomer flirting with Martin. Appalled by what she sees, Kat decides

Mystic Mo!

THE LOCALS ARE AMAZED AS SHE DEMONSTRATES HER PSYCHIC POWERS...

Not content with starting up her shifty business venture with Hayley, Mo has devised yet another plan to generate some quick cash: she's become a psychic!

The residents of Albert Square are amazed by Mo's apparently supernatural abilities, as everything she predicts starts to come true.

"You'd have thought that people might be a little bit more sceptical of Mo's superpowers," sniggers our Square insider. "Given her history of scams, rip-offs and general hoaxing, how likely does it seem that she, of all people, has been blessed with 'the sight'? However, that still doesn't explain how she's actually doing it – so perhaps Mo really is in touch with paranormal agents?"

Jean is certainly convinced, and is completely won over by Mo's unearthly 'gift'. In fact, she's so impressed by what she has seen that she decides to invite Shirley over to witness the miracle for herself.

Can a leopard change its spots? It doesn't seem so, as Mo predicts Kim's future

"There isn't anyone more cynical in Walford than Shirley Carter," reasons our spy. "So if she can be persuaded that Mo has been touched by celestial beings, then anyone can!"

However, Mo fobs off Shirley, telling her to come back the next day. All these metaphysical visions don't half take it out of you, and there's only so much predicting that a psychic can do in one day. Or perhaps there could be another explanation for Mo's new-found talents after all...

Tom Spilsbury

Furious Kat spots Hayley and Martin flirting up a storm that she has to intervene on Stacey's behalf.

"Kat is loyal to Stacey, and so she forces Hayley into the café and threatens her," reveals our spy. "Kat has her own history with Hayley, and she tells her that she wants her out of Walford. But Hayley isn't easily pushed around, and she refuses. She's still owed money from Mo's business venture, and she won't slink away because Kat says so! And besides, Hayley has a few tricks of her own that will force Kat to think twice about ever threatening her again..."

What does Hayley know, and what will it mean for the future of the Slater family?

GOLDEN GRAHAM

So we finally know what Emmerdale's Graham has been hiding – that he accidentally killed his wife and unborn child by drink-driving. But do you know what? That confession didn't make me love him any less. He's one of the most interesting guys the Dales has seen in ages.

👤 | Maggie, Birmingham

KENNEDY CLONES

Do any other readers think that the woman from the SunLife ad looks like everyone's favourite GILF* Susan Kennedy? Right down to the fetching line in pink tops. Tell you what, though, SunLife Karl looks like he needs that life insurance. He's aged.

*Grandma I'd like to foster me

👤 | Andy, London

Whirlwind Izzy is enough to age anyone by about 20 years!

RUBBISH HUBBY

Emmerdale's David is literally the worst husband in soap – and that's saying something! The way he has treated his wife Tracy is absolutely appalling. It served him right when he was forced to admit to her that he'd slept with Leyla behind her back, and I cheered when Tracy told him where to go. He's a spineless creep, and Tracy deserves so much better!

👤 | Jessica, Brighton

I just don't get why he has so many women fighting over him!

FIENDS FOREVER

Am I the only person who will miss the twists, turns, high drama and craziness when Pat Phelan finally leaves? Not to mention all the murders! He has to be the most sinister baddy in Coronation Street's 57-year history.

👤 | Mrs Dawn Bullock

Maybe he could make his way round the other soaps and bump off a few surplus characters...

BAY OF SUNSHINE

It was great to see Home and Away going all out to celebrate their 30th anniversary, and I was so happy they made Alf the centre of it all. He's the heart and soul of the show, and I was really worried that he could be a goner! I wasn't expecting that confession about his 'dead' wife Martha, though – what a shocker!

👤 | Ken
I bet you weren't as shocked as poor Roo...

No one look at the wallpaper - you'll go blind

CRYING SHANE

I feel so sorry for Hollyoaks' Shane. He worked really hard to turn his life around and be there for his boys – and now he's been forced to confess to murder in order to protect them. It's such a shame he's gone to prison, as I really loved the chemistry between him and Simone.

👤 | Josie, London

Maybe when Ryan finally gets arrested for his crimes, Shane will be able to return to the village...

PLATT CHANCE

It was such a treat to see Gail's ex Martin back on Corrie. I had forgotten what a thoroughly nice guy he is, and what a great calming effect he has on that troubled Platt household. Please, please cancel his flight to New Zealand and write him back into the show.

👤 | Mo

A calming influence is exactly what David needs right now!

ROBYN ROBBED

It was so nice to see Robyn finally get her happy ever after as she married Glen in Casualty, but at the same time it was heartbreaking to watch, as I knew Glen's days were numbered. The thing I love about Robyn and Glen is that they're just such a normal couple – so I don't know how Robyn is going to cope without him.

👤 | Ava

I cried my eyes out watching Glen's death on Saturday night. Blub!

KAT BACK FROM THE DEAD!

Kat's miraculous resurrection certainly got people tuning into EastEnders – but can she and the rest of the Slaters put the fun back into dreary old Walford? Not everyone is convinced...

I cracked up with laughter at the episode where Kat 'returned from the grave'. Jean's comments in particular were hilarious, when she said to Ian, "You can ask her when you put the biscuits back in the cupboard!" We need more humour like this rather than all doom and gloom.

👤 | Sam, Peterborough

The return of the Slaters showed exactly what

EastEnders has been lacking over the past few months – some good old-fashioned fun. Although the whole saga involving Kat's fake death was more than a little far-fetched, it's great to see girl power back at the heart of the Square. Long may it continue!

👤 | Ms J Kelly

No matter what storyline she is involved in, Jessie Wallace just lights up the screen as

Kat. Her return to Walford has actually made EastEnders watchable for the first time in months. What the writers need to do is pair her up with Karen – or 'Waynetta', as Kat calls her – and let the pair of them loose on the Square!

👤 | Gordon

But for some of you, even Queen Kat isn't enough to keep you tuning in...

Kat's return was so brilliant, but now we're back to the humdrum of Bernie and Ted and their boring chess story! Why are the show's bosses getting it so wrong right now? The powers-that-be need to drop this nonsense before they lose all their viewers for good.

👤 | Perrie, Runcorn

If Kat can't save EastEnders, then surely nobody can!

ANNIE ONE KNOW HER?

I'm sure I recognise that scary woman Annie who's putting the frighteners on Mo in EastEnders. What's she been in before?

📍 | Holden, London

Martha Howe-Douglas – aka Annie – played receptionist Donna in Doctors from 2006 to 2007. She's also been in Doctor Foster, Horrible Histories and Yonderland.

Rodney was delighted to be a guest at his ex-wife's wedding

TWISTED FAMILY TREE

In Emmerdale, during the whole fiasco with Liv and Gabby spiking Lisa's drink, Bernice made a comment to Robert about family loyalty. So are the two of them related in some way?

📍 | Meghan

They are indeed – but only by their parents'

marriage.

Bernice's mum Diane got hitched to Robert's dad Jack before he died, making Bernice and Robert stepbrother and sister. That didn't stop Bernice from jumping into bed with Robert's brother Andy – but at least he wasn't Jack's biological son!

THE BIG.
interview

“Nicola is a total sex maniac – it’s kind of terrifying!”

As Nicola and Jimmy suffer setbacks in the bedroom, stars Nicola Wheeler and Nick Miles can’t help but see the funny side...

Oh, here he is!” chuckles Nicola Wheeler, lambasting her sheepish telly husband Nick Miles for arriving late for a chat with us in the Woolpack. “I’m sorry! I’m sorry!” pleads Nick, as she jokingly gives him an earful – proving that these two are just as much of an old married couple as they are when playing Nicola and Jimmy.

“We enjoy it when the other one makes mistakes, so we can rip the hell out of each other,” grins the actress, as Nick smiles and rolls his eyes. Ah, wedded soapie bliss for you!

Sadly, though, this week is anything but blissful for Jimmy and Nicola. The pressure of being a double agent for Robert and Joe takes its toll on poor Mr King – so much so, that Jimmy struggles to ‘perform’ in the bedroom and resorts to buying dodgy Viagra online! However, the real humiliation sets in when Nicola finds out – just as she and Jimmy learn that her dad Rodney is at it with a woman half his age! That’s agony for Jimmy and Nicola, of course, but great fun for the actors to play...

You do get some wild and wacky storylines, don’t you?

Nicola We do! A lot of our stuff is treated quite light-heartedly, and it’s done in the typical Nicola and Jimmy way – but a couple might be sat at home saying,

Hand over fist: Nicola and Jimmy love each other and just want to do well in life “Yep, actually that’s us, that’s the problem we’ve been having, let’s go to the doctors”. Jimmy and Nicola are the sort of characters you don’t have to take seriously if you don’t want to, though!

What do they make of Rodney’s girlfriend Misty? A thirtysomething Ibiza party girl, we hear...

Nick It’s a living hell and only adds pressure to Jimmy’s lack of bedroom performance. The fact the writers have named her after my dog [Nick has a West Highland Terrier called Misty] has added to the idea that this is my nightmare.

Nicola From what I’ve read so far, Nicola hasn’t commented on Misty being younger than she is. She’d be furious!

So what happens when Nicola finds out Jimmy has procured Viagra?

Nicola She goes spare! Like most women might do, Nicola takes it personally and thinks, ‘What’s wrong with me? Doesn’t he fancy me any more?’. But then she gets really anxious because Jimmy’s bought these random pills from the internet and has no idea what he could be taking!

Nick Jimmy has been stuck in the middle of this war between Robert and Joe, and he’s very stressed. He’s bought this dodgy Viagra, as it would be scarier to refuse Nicola in bed! She’s much more terrifying than any other option.

Nicola We both love the fact that Nicola is a total sex maniac. I don’t know where she gets her energy from! I mean, isn’t it the most bizarre thing that she was paralysed in a fire while trying to retrieve a sex toy? Madness!

Indeed! Nicola loves Jimmy deep down, though, doesn't she?

Nicola Of course. I think you see a nice side of Nicola, as eventually she gets over herself and says they need to go to the doctor. But as always with poor Jimmy, something else gets uncovered, and in this case he has lied about his health. Dr Cavanagh has told him that he needs to lower his cholesterol level, and this is news to Nicola, so you know he's going to cop it and be eating salads forever.

Funny you mention Dr Cavanagh. Rumour has it Nicola has taken quite a shine to him...

Nicola Oh, yes! Come and take a look at my husband, Dr Cavanagh, while I stand here in my negligee!

Nick It'll never happen for her. The doctor has seen what she's like.

Nicola Most men wouldn't go for Nicola, to be fair. It takes a special kind of man to like that!

Is Nicola disappointed that Jimmy hasn't made a success of working for Joe at Home Farm?

Nicola You can understand Joe's point of view in that Jimmy's family did oust the Tates from Home Farm, so you can see the revenge plot there. But of course, Dim Jim was the least impressive of the family. Dim Jim and his floppy willy! Poor Nick. If he's not revealing his bottom to the nation, he's revealing that it's not working for Jimmy in the bedroom department. You're a good sport!

Nick Thanks!

The two of you obviously get on like a house on fire after all this time.

Nicola Oh God no... [laughs] We do, yes.

Nick Myself and Nicola have a speedy way of working with each other – we zip through our scenes very quickly.

Nicola When I learn lines, I hear Nick and I know what Jimmy will sound like. Very rarely do we disagree on anything.

You've been together on screen for nearly 10 years! And Nick, Jimmy has come a long way since his early days with the Kings...

Nick Yes, although looking back, they were dark times – he was bullied by the rest of the family! I enjoy being on the Home Farm set and having plenty of room, though. We have the tiniest space for our house with the biggest furniture.

Nicola It was a joke in the story that Nicola brought ludicrously massive furniture, and now we want to get rid of it. When Nicola was in a wheelchair, I destroyed half the set reversing into it all and taking it with me! I'll never get to work at Home Farm, but I walk past it and look at it longingly...

Nick Stick to the factory, love.

Laura-Jayne Tyler

Costume DRAMA!

Jimmy and Nicola's adventurous sex life has made for some hilarious scenes...

We do hope the Kings manage to get their mojo back – as over the years, Emmerdale viewers have been party to their raunchy and ridiculous role play! So Inside Soap can't help but wonder if Nicola and Nick have a favourite scenario they've been asked to act out – and game Nicola answers with zero hesitation...

"I loved Jimmy's caveman outfit!" she howls. "An Officer And A Gentleman did make me laugh as well. Personally, I don't go in for that kind of thing. If my real-life husband dressed up, I'd be fuming – but I'm all right with the caveman!"

Lamp him one: Phil is on the warpath over Hunter's caddish treatment of Louise

Be the HUNTER ...not the hunted

EASTENDERS | BBC1 MONDAY

CHARLIE WINTER
TELLS US WHY
STEVE OWEN JNR
IS JUST GETTING STARTED AS THE SQUARE'S NEW BAD BOY...

Hunter highs and lows:
Mel's lad has found out a lot about his family history

She's a Keeper: Charlie and co-star Tilly have hit it off famously

While rising star Charlie Winter is Walford's new kid on the block, his character Hunter came to Albert Square with one hell of a family name to live up to. So we're delighted that the son of infamous EastEnders villain Steve Owen has picked up right where his dad left off – breaking hearts and battling Phil Mitchell...

"I'm not going to lie, I was really excited when I found out Hunter would be going up against Phil," grins the youthful actor, as he joins Inside Soap for his first ever interview. "The scenes you're about to see between them this week are really intense, but Steve [McFadden, who plays Phil] sat me down ahead of filming and gave me a few pointers. It's gratifying, working with someone of his calibre."

"Tamzin Outhwaite [aka Hunter's mother Mel] has been amazing to me as well – she is almost like my actual mum on set," continues Charlie. "She's been so helpful to me on screen and off, which is a blessing."

If landing his first television job and joining one of the nation's most popular soaps wasn't huge enough, Charlie had years of EastEnders history to get his head around, dating back to when screen parents Mel and Steve were at the heart of the show in the late 90s and early 2000s.

"When I joined the show, I went back and watched clips of Martin Kemp, who played Steve, just to get a feel for his mannerisms so that I could mimic a few of them," explains Charlie. "There are subtle little things that I do that people wouldn't necessarily notice – so I'll leave it up to the audience to try to spot some of them!"

The most notable similarities that Hunter shares with his late father are his womanising ways – and a devotion to making Phil suffer! This week, Hunter hits the Square top dog where it hurts by seducing his teenage daughter Louise (see p10) – but is their romance simply about revenge, or does Hunter have genuine feelings for Lou?

"Hunter is a damaged kid and has a bit of a chip on his shoulder," shares Charlie. "He's focused on getting back at Phil, but he and Louise have a long history, so there's definitely chemistry there. The trouble is, I don't think Hunter really knows what he wants from this scenario. He's kind of in two minds about it."

"I couldn't be friends with Hunter personally – but then, I'm not sure he would be acting this way if he didn't have so many misconceptions about his dad," continues the actor. "If someone could play him back all those old YouTube clips of Steve's time, I'm sure he'd feel a bit differently!"

For now, it seems Louise is collateral damage where Hunter is concerned. However, Charlie has become fast friends with actress Tilly Keeper, who plays her.

"Tilly is absolutely wicked, a really sweet girl," he enthuses. "Surprisingly, it wasn't actually that nerve-wracking when we were paired up as love interests, because we'd hit it off instantly. We have such a laugh, so there wasn't any awkwardness when we had to kiss and do stuff like that. Well, I thought it was fine – she might say different!"

We imagine that jumping on board the Walford express is quite a ride when you're new to the industry, but Charlie sounds as if he has his feet firmly planted on the ground.

"My whole family tuned in for my first episode – they were so proud," he says. "My nan and granddad love EastEnders, so they were over the moon about it and excited to see me on screen."

"The more episodes I'm in, the more fans of the show have begun to clock me when I'm out and about," adds Charlie. "The reaction I've had has all been really pleasant so far, but viewers are yet to see what Hunter is capable of – so that might change! He can be quite vicious, so I'm interested to hear what the audience will think as time goes on..."

Laura-Jayne Tyler

I wish Hunter could see all the YouTube clips of Steve Owen!

DO or DYER!

Charlie received sound advice from a megastar...

EastEnders has a fine reputation for nurturing new talent – particularly the likes of Charlie, who hasn't been on screen before. So who better to show him the ropes than a former film star turned landlord of the Queen Vic?

"Danny Dyer [Mick] is my mentor, and he's really cool," grins Charlie. "On my first day he said to me very simply, 'Keep your head down, learn your lines, show up prepared and do your thing'. I like to think that it's served me pretty well so far."

“Eva simply has to tell Aidan she’s having his baby!”

WITH HER ALTER EGO ON THE VERGE OF BEING HONEST WITH AIDAN, CATHERINE TYLDESLEY RECKONS IT’S TIME...

Eva’s not the brightest of girls,” sighs actress Catherine Tyldesley. “Up till now she just hasn’t thought about the consequences!” This week, however, as Eva’s latest baby scan leaves her pining to tell Aidan he’s going to be a dad, the mum-to-be wavers for the first time over her secret plan to give Toyah the baby to raise as her own. And as Eva and Toyah sit down for a no-holds-barred conversation, Catherine admits that her character needs to stop thinking with her heart and start using her head...

“Eva thought she and Toyah had come up with the ideal solution, when in fact it’s anything but,” shares the 34-year-old star. “They’ve developed this really strong bond, and Eva thought she could absolutely deal with the surrogacy, then get on with her life again. But both of them were being naive, and Eva is finding it incredibly difficult now.”

While hindsight is a wonderful thing, this quandary was probably always on the cards. As Eva prepares to take her fast-growing bump away from the Street to a cottage in the country, the wobbles set in – and sympathetic Catherine totally understands what she’s going through.

“Eva’s midwife mentions the baby’s father at her scan,” explains the actress, who has a three-year-old son, Alfie, with her husband Tom Pitfield. “Eva looks around at all these couples getting ready for what should be the most important moment in their lives, and she suddenly realises she’s robbing Aidan of the opportunity to be there.

Aidan and comfort: Can Eva bring herself to admit the truth to her ex?

“He’ll never get the chance to hold their little girl, sing to her, do all the things that dads are supposed to do – and the thought of that overwhelms Eva,” continues Catherine. “She herself grew up without a dad, so that’s another key part of what’s going on in her head.”

Fortunately, Eva finally feels able to share her worries with Toyah. Her surrogacy partner somehow finds the strength to tell her that, if she really is struggling with the deal, she should tell Aidan – whom she very nearly married last year – that she’s having his baby. And Catherine couldn’t agree more...

It’s taken Eva this long to stop suppressing her feelings

Toy boy: Toyah has wanted a baby of her own for so long

“Eva should tell Aidan – 100 per cent she should,” declares the star. “If I was Eva’s friend, I’d never have let her get to the point in the first place. However, it’s taken Eva this long to stop suppressing her feelings for Aidan. When she first realised she was pregnant, she was on her own and terrified. She hadn’t recovered from the terrible events of her and Aidan’s wedding day, and couldn’t see a way out. But now she realises how much she cares for him. They’re soulmates.”

Surrogate crasher: Toyah will be gutted if she loses out on this baby opportunity

While Eva didn't consider life as a single parent to be a viable option, Catherine believes differently. And whatever Eva decides to do next, the actress has every faith in her confused character's parenting capabilities...

"The idea of being a single mum overwhelms Eva – it's not something she thinks she could do," muses Catherine. "Her own mum Stella was a single mother, and she's inherited that strength from her – but she doesn't have the self-belief. I reckon Eva would be a great mum, though. She'd be loads of fun and would cherish a little baby. She'd be slightly ditzy, of course, but a good mum nonetheless!"

Allison Jones

Glamorous granny!

Will Eva return to the cobbles in her dotage?

With Eva set to leave Weatherfield later this year, Catherine teases that it may not be a permanent farewell...

"As far as I'm aware the door is being left open, which I'm truly grateful for," she revealed during an appearance on ITV's Loose Women. "I'll have been at Corrie almost eight years by the time I leave."

Catherine also admitted she'd love to watch Eva grow old disgracefully – and we're crossing our fingers that we'll get to see that spectacle, too.

"I'd like to see Eva when she's 80-odd, boobs up to her eyeballs!" chuckles the star. "Coronation Street has been like a second home, and I've absolutely loved every minute."

ISOBEL STEELE

Emmerdale's Liv Flaherty

...faces your questions!

Troubled teen Liv has been in all kinds of bother recently – so for 17-year-old star Isobel, your questions have made a refreshing change from police enquiries...

"Who is your best friend among the Emmerdale cast?"

Danny [Miller, who plays Aaron] – we get really well, and he's lovely! On my first day, he told me how to sort my scripts out so that they're in order, and how to learn them. He also said to always take a bit of time to get into character. If you've got an emotional scene, it really does make a difference when you see it on telly. He looks after me on screen and off, like a real-life big brother.

"I read that you're turning 18 later this year. What would be your dream way to celebrate?"

I think probably a party at my house – or a holiday! I might be going away to the French Alps. I'm not sure exactly what I'll do, but hopefully it'll be with friends and family.

"What's the best thing about being a Dingle?"

"Would you be best friends with someone like Gabby in real life?"

Gabby is very supportive of Liv if it suits her. When they get on, they sort of understand each other – but when they fall out, it can be a bitter experience! Gabby has a nasty streak, and she's definitely selfish at times. I don't think she'd be my friend, because I don't think she's that nice a person, deep down. She has these ways of making Liv feel uncomfortable, and I don't want that in my life.

"Having seen your posts online, you have a great voice! What inspired you to start singing, and are there any songwriters you particularly love?"

Aw, thanks! It's just something I've always done. I've enjoyed playing the piano from a young age. I had lessons, and now I play for my own enjoyment. I write songs, so I thought I might as well share them. My music taste varies a lot, but from the start someone who inspired me is Adele. She writes her own music, and she's brilliant.

"What's the best gig you've ever been to?"

I went to watch Twenty One Pilots – they're kind of a rap duo. They're not really my taste in music, but I went to see them a couple of years ago with my friend. It was the first concert

Thirteen reasons why: Isobel adores Jodie Comer

Liv a little: Isobel's alter ego got into real trouble when she inadvertently poisoned Lisa

Draper capers: Isobel with co-star Eden at the 2017 British Soap Awards

Run of the Miller: Isobel counts Danny as one of her best pals on set

I'd ever been to, and we were stuck in a mosh pit. It was ridiculous, but so funny!

"Do you have brothers and sisters in real life?"

Yes, I have a younger brother called Conrad. He's different from Danny Miller in that he's not the older brother, but we're just as close. We have a good relationship and he's very supportive. I think he thinks he's too cool to watch Emmerdale, though. He prefers his Xbox!

"What was your initial reaction to Liv's asexuality story, and what feedback have you had from fans?"

When I found out I was going to get the storyline, I was shocked, because I didn't know what asexuality was at the time. But I've done my research now. I was happy to be able to play it out, and the feedback so far has been positive. People are happy that it's being spoken about. I think it will play for a while, as it's something Liv has to come to terms with over time. It's a slow burn.

"Have you been to any of the big awards, and do you like dressing up for the red carpet?"

I've been to the British Soap Awards, but I don't enjoy dressing up at all. It's not my thing! I feel more comfortable in joggers. It's all good fun, though. Everyone thinks there's rivalry between the soaps, but when you see people at these dos, we all have a good time.

"What's the best thing about being part of the Dingle clan?"

Liv isn't actually a Dingle – but I wish she was! They're one of the most popular families in Emmerdale, and I massively enjoy being a part of that. The actors who play the Dingles are the people I get on with the most. When we film all day in the Dingle house, it can be quite tiring because there are a lot of us – but we do get on so well, and I really enjoy it.

"Would you be friends with Gabby?"

"Is there a particular actor or show that's inspired you?"

I really love Jodie Comer [Thirteen, Doctor Foster] and Abigail Hardingham [The Missing]. They're incredible. I remember Abigail did a clicking thing with her hand as a part of her character in The Missing. I thought that was really nice, putting something different into your body language to make your character stand out, and I've tried to include that in things Liv does, too.

"Is there anywhere in the world you'd really like to visit?"

I've just come back from a trip to Copenhagen with Eden [Taylor-Draper, who plays Belle]. It was incredible! We went for a weekend and enjoyed it so much. I'd like to go to Barcelona, Morocco and New Zealand. And I want to go to America. I know it sounds clichéd, because everyone says it, but I literally want to travel the world! I definitely want to travel to as many places as I can before I get old...

"We recently saw you in photographs with The Voice judge will.i.am. What was going on there?"

...asks reader Ben Jones from Clacton-on-Sea

My friends and I were at college, and we got an email asking if we wanted to watch The Voice being filmed – so we went down to the studio and were sitting very close to the front. We ended up talking to will.i.am and [other judges] Jennifer Hudson and Tom Jones for hours between takes. We got a picture at the end – and people must have thought I was auditioning on the show!

Twisted SISTER!

NEIGHBOURS NEWCOMER APRIL ROSE PENGILLY REVEALS ALL ABOUT WILD CHILD CHLOE BRENNAN...

After more than a year of hearing tales about Mark and Aaron's mysterious younger sister Chloe, we finally met her last month – and she's certainly caused a stir since landing on Ramsay Street!

"I hope Chloe is living up to people's expectations, as I know she's been teased for quite a long time!" chuckles Neighbours' newcomer April Rose Pengilly, who plays the much-hyped Brennan sibling. "Chloe is a very well-meaning person, though she can sometimes put her foot in it – she often opens her mouth and says the wrong thing. She never has any intention to hurt anyone or to cause problems, but she's like a puppy who just stumbles into trouble!"

Chloe finds herself in hot water this week, thanks to her shenanigans with Brandon – and has to do some secret business for Jane in exchange for her keeping quiet! So what else can we expect from the wild child? April spills the beans...

What have your first few months at Neighbours been like?

It's been really full-on! It's such a fast-paced show so I thought I'd get stressed out by the schedule, but I've found it easy. Everyone is great at what they do and so much fun to be around, and that makes you want to be better and work harder.

You were cast in the role of Chloe last summer – was it difficult to keep it under wraps?

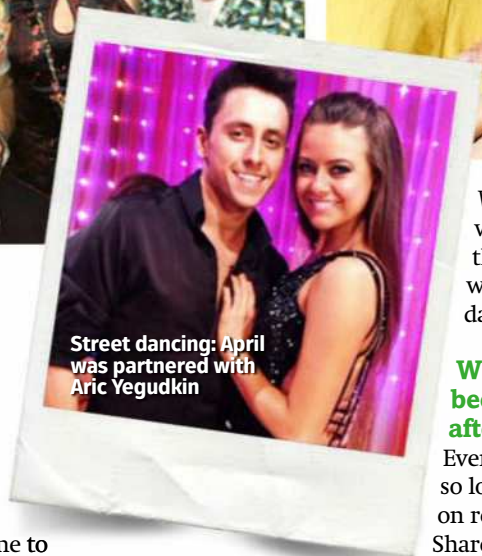

It's actually been really strange to have it out in the open now! I'd had to keep it quiet since September, which has been tricky – I had a plan to move to the States to work, so people have been asking why I haven't gone to the US. I've just been trying to lay low!

Did you know anyone in the show before you joined?

I knew Takaya Honda [David] and Jodi Anasta [Elly], so they helped me figure out what was going on. I also knew Zoe Cramond [Amy] as we both did Dancing

Brothers in arms: April is all smiles with her screen siblings

Street dancing: April was partnered with Aric Yegudkin

With The Stars – we weren't in it the same year, but we had the same dancing partner!

Who else has been looking after you?

Everyone's been so lovely, but I get on really well with Sharon Johal, who plays Dipi. The place where I'm staying in Melbourne is just round the corner from where she lives.

How is working with Scott McGregor and Matt Wilson (Mark and Aaron)?

I'm an only child in real life, but I feel like I have brothers now because Scott and

The end for Ryan?

Ste learns the shocking truth about his lover...

“Well, it’s just brilliant!” enthuses Kieron Richardson, as he reveals all about the dramatic showdown that takes place between his character Ste and killer Ryan this week.

“Ste still has feelings for this guy, but he’s also found out that he killed Amy – it’s a lot for Ste to take in!” explains the star. “So he forces Ryan to watch the video of the wedding day and relive these happy memories, trying to provoke a response.”

As the tension builds, things soon turn physical between the pair. And with Ryan’s track record, it’s clear Ste is in very real danger...

“At several moments you think, ‘One of them’s going to die!’” Kieron tells us. “Then something else happens and you’re like, ‘Oh my God, this is it!’”

The confrontation has been a long time coming, with viewers seething that Ste fell into a relationship with the man who killed the mother of his kids – and Kieron certainly sympathises with the haters!

“I think the audience were never going to get behind those two as a couple, as they’ve been in on the whole mystery,” muses the actor, who has played Ste since 2006. “The fans are just like, ‘No! We’re not having this one!’ It’s great, though. That’s what you want – viewers screaming at the TV!”

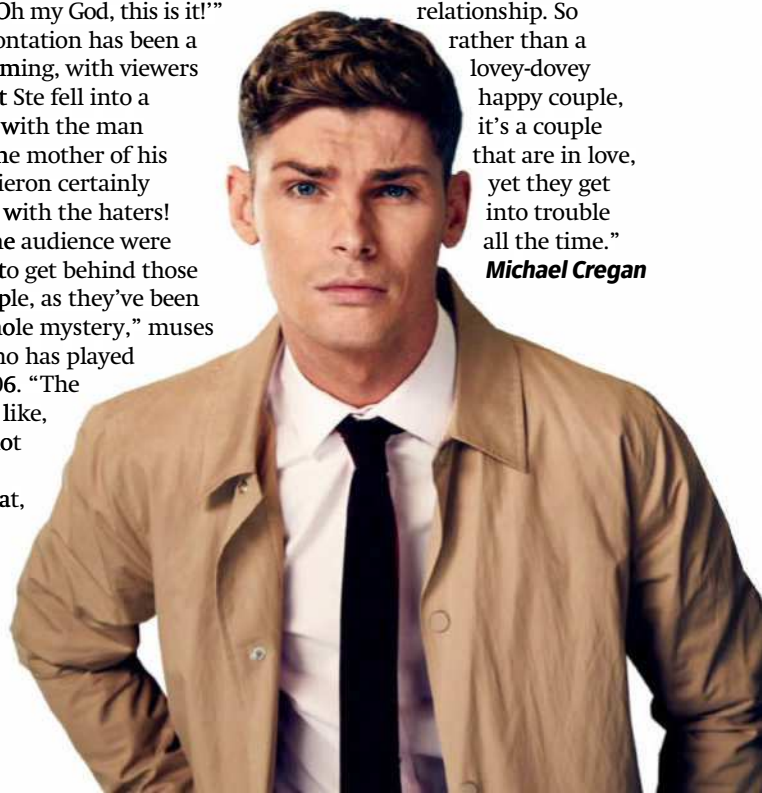

Knight-mare: Ryan is shocked as Ste confronts him

With Ste’s love life having led him into calamity once again, we wondered what Kieron would like to see next for his character – should he survive his stand-off with Ryan!

“I wouldn’t mind him being in a steady relationship for a change!” he laughs. “He could get back with Harry. I would like them to be in a relationship, but a naughty relationship. So rather than a lovey-dovey happy couple, it’s a couple that are in love, yet they get into trouble all the time.”

Michael Cregan

Caught kissing: Jane finds Chloe and Brandon getting cosy

Matt have both been so welcoming! Scenes in the Brennan house are my favourite to film.

What’s Chloe’s relationship with her brothers like?

She has been raised away from them from her early teen years, after their parents’ split. The main reason she’s come to town is to try to fix their relationship – but Mark thinks Chloe could just take off again at the drop of a hat.

Is Chloe the type of person you would be friends with in real life?

Yeah, definitely. When they first sent me through the character bio, I thought that she could have been written just for me! There are a lot of elements of my personality that are slight, but have been amped up to 100 per cent with Chloe. Sometimes my big mouth gets me into trouble like it does her, too!

10 totally true FACTS about... Sue Nicholls

YOUR InsideSoap BRIEFING ON THE WOMAN BEHIND CORRIE'S AUDREY...

1 Susan Frances Nicholls was born on 23 November 1943 in Walsall

– the second daughter of Lord Harmar-Nicholls, who was an MP for Peterborough. As her dad was later made a life peer, Sue is entitled to be addressed as 'The Honourable Susan Nicholls' – although she's explained that she doesn't like to use her full title.

3 Although we all know her as Audrey, Sue was a soap veteran well over a decade before she first stepped on to the cobbles: she'd entered the public eye as waitress Marilyn Gates, an early character in ATV soap Crossroads. Marilyn was romanced by the local vicar and ended up marrying him – and Sue, who starred from 1964 to 1968, even got to travel to Morocco for some filming with the show's grande dame, Noele Gordon (Meg Mortimer).

2 Sue made her Coronation Street debut as Audrey Potter in 1979, making her one of the show's longest-serving stars. Audrey initially only made occasional appearances as Gail's mother, but she became a full-time local in 1985, when she married Alf Roberts. Over the years, Audrey has been widowed, become a grandmother and a great-grandmother, and been reunited with her secret son, Stephen Reid, whom she gave up for adoption when she was only a teenager.

4 Sue is married to former Corrie co-star Mark Eden in real life. The couple met at a party in 1983, and went on to see a lot more of each other when Mark took on the role of villainous Alan Bradley between 1986 and 1989. He and Sue got hitched in 1993, and the pair celebrate their silver anniversary this year. Congratulations!

5 Sue and Mark lived in London for many years, with Sue staying in her flat in Manchester when filming. But recent years have seen Mark – who is now 90 – move to Manchester to live with Sue full-time. “I’m hoping that I’m not too much of a burden,” he says sweetly of the arrangement. “It’s good because when Sue goes out to work, I can get everything ready for her. I enjoy cooking, so I do most of it.”

6 Sue is not only a successful actress, she’s also a bona fide pop star! She found Top 20 success in 1968 with the song *Where Will You Be, which she first sang in character on Crossroads. Future chart hits might have eluded her, but she did go on to enjoy a successful cabaret career during the 1970s, even performing on the Broadway stage.

7 In the late 1970s, Sue starred as neurotic Reggie’s frumpy secretary Joan Greengross in seminal BBC1 comedy The Fall And Rise Of Reginald Perrin. Joan was often to be found in all sorts of imaginary saucy scenarios, and Sue later reflected: “It was kind of off the wall – you either got it or you didn’t. I often think that was the part that was nearest to me in real life...”

8 Sue has had plenty of funny moments as Audrey, but she honed her comedy skills in the 1980s, when she starred as Wanda Pickles in Jim Davidson’s ITV sitcom Up The Elephant and Round The Castle. Also in the cast were future Walford legends John Bardon (Ernie ‘Dad’ London) and Anita Dobson (Lois Tight).

9 If you were a child some 40 years ago, you’ll probably remember Sue for two roles in particular. She was Mrs Muddle, the long-suffering neighbour of Hartley Hare, in ITV’s Pipkins – but she also starred in BBC1’s Rentaghost as allergy-prone Nadia Popov, who would literally ‘pop off’ into thin air every time she sneezed. Even today, Sue reckons it’s her most famous role: “When people meet me, they always talk about Rentaghost more than anything else!”

10 Sue has a Corrie viewer to thank for potentially saving her life! While watching in 2011, a dermatological nurse noticed a worrying mole on Sue’s shoulder. The nurse emailed the series, urging the actress to get it checked out – and it’s a good thing she did, as the mole turned out to be cancerous and had to be surgically removed.

A YEAR IN THE LIFE

DAVINA McCALL FOLLOWS MORE PEOPLE VOWING TO TRANSFORM THEIR LIVES IN 12 MONTHS...

THIS TIME NEXT YEAR | ITV TUESDAY

One year ago:
Jayne Hardman's
nose had collapsed...

Although Davina McCall's latest series This Time Next Year – in which members of the public vow to transform an aspect of their lives – was a hit with viewers when it launched in 2016, there was one drawback to the format. Given that the contributors have a year to make their pledge happen, and it takes time to find all of these people and to get the show set up, we've been waiting a while for series two to hit our screens. Luckily, ITV has been planning ahead to ensure we won't have to wait that long again...

"There's been such a long time between last time and this time because it takes a year to make!" Davina tells Inside TV. "And they didn't decide until [the first series] had gone out whether they were going to do it again – it's just one of those timing things! But we started series three last May, and we'll be finishing that this May."

The wait has been worth it, though, as this second series features more incredible, inspiring and sometimes shocking stories from people determined to make a change. The contributors in episode one include Jayne Hardman, whose nose collapsed in 2014 due to a rare autoimmune disease. Her goal is to be in remission from this condition in a year's time, to allow her to have a prosthetic nose built.

"She's gorgeous, nose or no nose, but that's all people see," shares Davina. "She can see it when people's eyes drift to her nose. She understands that people are only looking because it's extraordinary. It's extremely unusual, and it's so tough for her because she had a nose – this isn't a condition she was born with. She had a nose, but it disappeared."

Although the 'this time' and 'next year' segments of the show really are filmed a year apart, clever editing and continuity makes it look as though mere moments have passed. In order to maintain the magic, Davina puts a lot of work into looking exactly the same.

"It's quite full-on!" she chuckles. "I grew my hair leading up to it, because I thought then they can cut it to the length they need – if it's too short, they can't. I had to get exactly the same nail varnish colour – we had to take pictures of that, write it down, and put it in a vault for a year. Things like my shoes and dress have to be sealed – no moths allowed!"

This Time Next Year has even become a trend-setter,

“MY SHOES AND DRESS HAVE TO BE SEALED – NO MOTHS ALLOWED!”

...One year later:
Jayne has now had a prosthetic nose built with shows like Change Your Tune also splicing two separate recordings into one show to create an 'instant' transformation. It's not the first time Davina has hosted such a pioneering show...

"It's a bit like Big Brother, isn't it?" she muses. "That was a trailblazer, and so many others copied it and ended up being just as good. Love Island is like Big Brother – and look how huge that was last year! It was amazing."

Good Will Hunting is my favourite film, but I've only ever seen it once. I cannot rewatch a film, even if I love it – apart from Trolls and Frozen, which I'm forced to watch daily. COME HOME | BBC1 TUESDAY

IT'S QUITE A FEAT TO MAKE A drama about the breakdown of a family and a marriage also contain lots of lightness and humour – but writer Danny Brocklehurst has already shown in Ordinary Lies that he can cover an entire spectrum of human emotion in 60 minutes of television. Stars

Christopher Eccleston and Paula Malcomson are both stunning in this raw and emotional story that constantly invites us to question our assumptions about whose 'fault' the split was. In this week's final episode, a custody case forces Greg and Marie to confront the repercussions of their actions...

THE VOICE UK | ITV SATURDAY

AND THE WINNER IS...

EMMA WILLIS IS ALL SET TO CROWN THE NEXT CHAMPION OF THE VOICE UK...

This Saturday the four remaining acts on The Voice UK will perform one last time, and for one of them it will be a life-changing evening when they walk away with a recording contract with Polydor Records. It's bound to be a tense day for all involved... but just how exciting is it? Inside TV went to the show's Elstree studios to ask presenter Emma Willis – yet confusingly, we found her in the middle of auditions for The Voice Kids...

Judgement day: The four mentors get ready for the final

What's the atmosphere like on the day of the final?

Terrifying! You're in here very early, and everyone's getting ready and rehearsing, and you bump into the contestants in the hall or in make-up and you see this look of terror or nerves in their eyes! You feel for them, because it's the biggest moment of their lives, and you

GRACE AND FAVOUR

AS THE SITCOM'S FIRST REVIVAL SEASON ENDS, THE CAST REVEAL WHAT IT'S LIKE TO BE BACK...

WILL & GRACE | Channel 5 FRIDAY

The return of Will & Grace after 11 years away has definitely reminded us how much we missed Will, Grace, Jack and Karen. Inside TV was lucky enough to attend an audience with the cast during a recent promotional trip to the UK, where they admitted they had some concerns about whether they'd be welcomed back...

"I was worried at first," says Debra Messing, who plays Grace. "I guess I thought we needed a reason – why are we doing this? But we had so much fun working on that political thing [a short sketch the cast recorded for the 2016 US presidential election] and it felt so organic. Things are not so great in America right now, and it feels like we have a lot to want it to go well – but it's only going to happen for one of them! So it's an exciting day. There's a real buzz.

Do you have any interesting pre-show rituals?

We eat a lot of cheese! Not for luck or anything, it's just that all of our team loves cheese. We sit and watch a monitor round the back and we've got a table with snacks on it. So when you're watching the auditions, we've literally just come back from cheese and pickle and crackers!

When you're doing The Voice UK and The Voice Kids at the same time, do you ever forget which one you're on?

Yes! Sometimes we're doing The Voice Kids, and you have 14-year-olds who look older than they really are. You're thinking they're incredible – and then you see Danny [Jones] and Pixie [Lott] and you're like, "Wow, I thought I was watching a really young contestant on the grown-up version, they're that good!"

Will you have a party when the show's over?

Yes, we have an after-show party. Jennifer [Hudson] was there well late last year. She was having a right good time!

say. At the end of the day, I want to laugh again, and make other people laugh!"

"We all got on like wildfire from the moment we first met," adds Eric McCormack, who plays Will. "While 11 years went by and all four of us were never in the same room together in that time, it all just came right back."

The show has already been renewed for another season in the US – and Megan Mullally, who plays Karen, is hoping that it sticks around for a while.

"I want to run it into the ground!" she laughs. "I want to keep doing it until people are like, 'Please, stop!'"

SECRET AGENT SELECTION: WW2 | BBC2 MONDAY

THIS MEANS WAR!

FOURTEEN CIVILIANS TRAIN FOR A WARTIME SECRET SERVICE IN A NEW IMMERSIVE HISTORY SERIES...

During World War Two, a top secret initiative known as the Secret Operations Executive recruited ordinary, unassuming people from all walks of life to run covert operations, aimed at disrupting the German military. In this new five-part series, 14 members of the public undergo a replica of the SOE training programme to see if they can pass its extremely demanding tests.

"We didn't get any feedback," reveals Army veteran Rob Copsey. "It soon became apparent that if you tried to second-guess what they were looking for, you'd fail, so you just had to be yourself. But it was hard – you never knew what was coming next."

Top secret: Members of the public are put through their paces

"You'd reach the end of a task at 10 or 11 at night," adds paediatric doctor Rohini Bajaj. "And then they'd drive you to the middle of the woods and be like, 'Right, your next task is...' – it's the middle of the night!"

This week's opener sees the recruits undergoing the initial selection process to see who has the skills needed for SOE work.

"What I found hardest was not telling anyone I was gay," shares drag performer Paul Stone. "I thought in that time period I wouldn't have gone in going, 'Hi! I'm a drag queen!' so it was almost going back to that stage when I was a lot younger of having to conceal who I was and be careful of what I was saying. I found that very stressful."

BRITAIN'S MOST HISTORIC TOWNS | Channel 4 8PM

Rome from home

History may be all around us, but certain parts of Britain are particularly useful for researching our past. In this new six-part series, Professor Alice Roberts travels the UK to find the towns which most encapsulate a particular era, and to find out more about the history hidden under our feet.

Her first stop is Chester, not only important for being the setting for Hollyoaks, but also for being a former Roman military stronghold. Chester's medieval features are still on display today, such as Chester Racecourse, the oldest course still in use in Britain. It's also known as the Roodee, from a medieval term meaning 'island of the cross', and archaeologist Caroline Pudney helps Alice find the cross in question.

6.30 Golf: The Masters Live 2018 Day Four: Eilidh Barbour introduces coverage of the fourth and final day from the Augusta National in Georgia, as the opening Major of the year concludes. Sergio Garcia and England's Justin Rose held the lead going into day four here last year, and it proved to be a memorable tussle for the title between the two. Garcia put the pressure on early on with two birdies in his first three holes, but Rose responded with three in a row of his own from the sixth. The lead changed hands several more times, before Garcia missed a putt to secure his maiden Major on the 18th. However, the Green Jacket did not elude the Spaniard for much longer, as he birdied the first hole of a sudden-death play-off to secure victory. Other highlights of the 2017 tournament's conclusion included 2011 champion Carl Schwartzel recording four birdies on the back nine to claim third place, and Matt Kuchar's hole-in-one on the 16th, which helped him tie with Thomas Pieters in fourth. With commentary by Peter Alliss, Ken Brown, Andrew Cotter and Paul Azinger. (S)

THE DURRELLS | ITV 8PM

DON'T Miss!

Visiting hour

It's customary to return with something for your family and friends when you've been away – but rather than, say, a mug or a stuffed animal, Larry just seems to be bringing back houseguests. During his short stay in Athens, not only has he sent new acquaintance Prince Jeejeebuoy from India to visit the Durrell homestead, but he also stumbles upon Captain Creech in the gutter – and invites him back as well! As you might imagine, Louisa is significantly more enthusiastic about one of these guests than the other – although it appears there has been a slight misunderstanding about their anticipated royal visitor.

Meanwhile, Gerry is still resisting Louisa's attempts to get him formally educated – a Durrell family trait, it seems. "None of my children liked school," muses Louisa. "Leslie took his uniform into the garden and shot it."

Please forgive us for flirting with heresy here, but the traditional stories about the birth of Christianity are a tad male-centric – particularly when it comes to Jesus' disciples. Religious scholars Helen Bond and Joan Taylor have a somewhat different interpretation, however, and believe that they have uncovered new evidence to prove female disciples did exist, and played a vital role in Jesus' mission – helping with preaching, baptising and even funding. In this documentary, Helen and Joan take us on a journey that could change the way we look at the early years of Christianity permanently.

THE HEART GUY | Drama 8PM

This Australian drama (called Doctor Doctor Down Under) is the story of a heart surgeon who's banned from surgical practice and forced to become a GP. Rodger Corser stars as the arrogant Dr Hugh Knight, who's frustrated by his exile to the town of Whyhope (why indeed?), where he reconnects with his estranged family. It's all, ahem, heart-warming stuff, as Hugh learns a lesson in humility.

SEX ROBOTS AND US | BBC3 10AM

Hundreds of sex robots with artificial intelligence are produced every week, apparently, and they're getting more realistic. Presenter James Young interviews the robots' creators and the men who have sex with them.

FOLK AWARDS 2018 | BBC 4 9PM

This compilation programme presents all the best moments from the Radio 2 Folk Awards 2018, which saw the late singer-songwriter Nick Drake inducted into the Hall of Fame. Mark Radcliffe and Judy Fowles host the proceedings.

MASTERCHEF: THE FINALS | BBC1 9PM

Last orders

Well done if you've managed to keep up with every episode of MasterChef this series, because the scheduling has been erratic to say the least. (It's times like these when we thank the powers-that-be for iPlayer.) So, just to make sure you're all prepared, your MasterChef Finals week starts tonight at 9pm, continues Wednesday and Thursday at 8pm, and finishes Friday at 8.30pm, when John and Gregg will set the final test and declare the 2018 champion.

Before that, there are plenty of taxing challenges for the finalists, such as cooking for Lord and Lady Fitzalan-Howard at Carlton Towers country house, and a trip to Peru, tutored by two of the country's most celebrated chefs.

DON'T Miss!

Too close for comfort

MARCELLA | ITV 9PM

The joy of watching a multi-stranded show like Marcella – with those seemingly random scenes and characters that leave us saying, “But what does that have to do with...?” – is getting to the finale and suddenly going, “...Oh!” Case in point: tonight Marcella talks to Joel Lawrence to see what he might know about Gail's disappearance, and spots that familiar-looking scar on his chest – and when she investigates his next of kin, a load of bad pennies start to drop. But it's when Marcella checks out their new prime suspect's home that she has to face her greatest fear.

PLEBS | ITV2 10PM

Series four of the bawdy Roman comedy sees Stylax unceremoniously squashed by a falling block of solid marble in the pre-titles sequence! (Presumably Joel Fry definitely isn't coming back then?) This presents a bit of a problem for Marcus (Tom Rosenthal), now that his flatmate is, um, a very flat mate. With rent to pay, Marcus tries to claim compensation by posing as Stylax's son, but Crassus (Robert Lindsay) has other ideas...

FAMALAM | BBC3 10AM

One of the entries from last year's BBC2 comedy pilot season now spawns a full series. The surreal sketch show follows oddballs such as the misunderstood superhero Eclipse and Croydon's leading witch doctor, Professor Lofuko.

LISBON: AN ART LOVERS' GUIDE | BBC4 9PM

Janina Ramirez and Alastair Sooke return for a second series to show us the cultural must-sees of three more major cities. First up they're in Lisbon, where the duo explore artwork documenting the city's former glories – and its unsavoury past.

Turning the tables

Ever felt inadequate because you were unable to help a child with primary-level homework? This new show takes that humiliation to the next level and enrolls an entire class of parents alongside their kids, to discover just how much things have changed since they last sat at those tiny desks.

The parents will be taking the same lessons as their kids, they'll eat the same school dinners, and be subject to the same disciplinary measures if they misbehave. It's a bit of a surprise for the kids when their parents walk into assembly – "If she asks, 'Can I play with you at break?', it'll be really awkward", notes one pupil – but that's nothing compared with the shock for the parents once the lessons begin...

HOSPITAL | BBC2 9PM

Regional variations

Full credit to you if you can get through an entire episode of Hospital without the need for a furtive eye-wipe at any point, because we've been finding it an intensely emotional experience – and that's unlikely to change this evening. Tonight's edition demonstrates the lasting impact of the NHS's advice to cancel all non-urgent surgery – particularly for those who may have a very different definition of the word 'urgent'. Fifty-five-year-old Val's jaw was destroyed by mouth cancer, and she cannot eat or talk. Her reconstructive surgery is not on the urgent list, but surgeon Dilip Srinivasan is determined to get Val back on the schedule.

THE RESIDENT | Universal 9PM

US medical dramas tend to exist in a world where doctors are unfailingly heroic (if self-obsessed) and patients are a priority – which is what makes this more cynical take so refreshing. Matt Czuchy

(The Good Wife's Cary) stars as the smug Dr Conrad Hawkins, senior resident at Chastain Park Memorial Hospital, who's on a mission to shatter the dreams of idealistic young doctors.

THE FLASH | Sky One 8PM

After three years as one of the few non-superpowered members of Team Flash, Iris gets her chance to shine when a metahuman transfers Barry's powers to her. How will she adapt to being a speedster – and how will Barry cope?

BRIDGET & EAMON | Gold 10PM

Bridget has joined a Camogie team ("Camogie – the stick-and-ball team sport played by women?" she explains, cleverly quoting the Wikipedia entry a good 15 years before the site was founded). However, Eamon wants to be their new goalie...

The singing defective

After a trial run of his act at an old people's home, Sammy Valentino feels he's ready for the big time – an evening gig at Neptune's. Unfortunately, he decides to ring Monty at 3am to tell him! Realising what a liability Sammy is, Monty is dreading Joyce finding out that he's spent all of the entertainment budget on him.

Elsewhere, Rob is feeling glum after Cyd's departure, although she gets a message to him by calling the hotel reception. After a pep talk from Mateo, Rob realises there's still time to catch her at the airport before her father takes her home. Meanwhile, Noreen has unexplained pains, and Dennis and Nigel have their work cut out to stop Jacqueline blowing their cover.

Neighbourhood watch

HOUSING YORKSHIRE: SOMEWHERE CALLED HOME | Channel 5 9PM

The documentary series following Yorkshire housing officers continues tonight, as Clare responds to a series of noise complaints against a tenant in Sheffield – whose visitors have been causing a disturbance to her neighbours. Unfortunately, Clare's resolve to hear both sides of the story is undermined by the tenant's failure to keep their appointment. Meanwhile in Wakefield, Tom has to handle a sensitive issue. Residents have complained about shouting and swearing coming from a neighbour's property in the early hours of the morning, but this has to be balanced against the person's own claim of bullying by the other locals.

THE AMERICANS | ITV4 10PM

We apologise for failing to pick out the arrival of the final season of the Cold War spy drama last week – we'll be asking Philip and Elizabeth Jennings to determine which method of torture they feel is a suitable punishment for us. Hopefully it's not too late to make amends, though – and tonight sees Elizabeth reconnecting with an old source who may hold the key to the arms control summit.

HIGH MAINTENANCE | Sky Atlantic 10PM

The comedy where the sole recurring character is a marijuana delivery man returns tonight for a second season. New York is dealing with an unspecified major tragedy, which means The Guy's even more in demand than usual.

RIVERDALE | 5Star 11PM

It's perhaps not the best omen that this teen noir has been bumped from 9pm to 11pm, but we love it all the same. Betty gets Jughead to help her track down her sister Polly – who in turn fills in a few gaps in the Jason mystery.

LIVING WITH THE BRAINY BUNCH | BBC2 8PM

Home schooling

'Nature vs nurture' is explored in this one-off documentary, in which Chessington Community College in Greater London tries something unusual: two underperforming pupils move out of their own homes for half a term, and go to stay with the families of A* students. Will a change in their home life help them improve their grades?

Hollie finds it hard to focus in lessons, and the teachers think her lack of confidence is at the root of her behaviour. She'll be moving in with the family of head girl Holly, who head teacher Mr Ali describes as an "on the front of the prospectus-type child". Meanwhile, Jack – who's been excluded three times – will be staying with pupil Tharush, who is excelling.

DON'T Miss!

One of the gang

STILL GAME | BBC1 9.30PM

Isa's hoping the series will be going out with a bang tonight, when her old pal Callum Coburn – a retired Hollywood stuntman – makes a return to Craiglang. Award-winning comedian Craig Ferguson guest stars as Callum, and it's clear that everyone on the team was very excited to have him on board. "It was brilliant fun to have him with us," beams Greg Hemphill, who co-writes the series and plays Victor McDade. "Sometimes when you have people in who don't really know the show, their performance needs a bit of adjustment so as it fits in – but Craig had literally seen every episode, and took to it like a duck to water!"

YOUNG SHELTON | E4 8.30PM

Sheldon's family may not always understand him, but they get points for trying. This week, George decides to let Sheldon choose what to do – so the three male Coopers set off on a road trip to Cape Canaveral to see the space shuttle launch. Back in Medford, Meemaw, Mary and Missy are planning a girls' trip to the salon, but Mary bristles at the idea that she's not a fun person...

THE GOOD FIGHT | More 4 9PM

There's more political intrigue in tonight's episode, as Diane and Adrian serve as outside counsel for a TV network which is about to smear the reputation of a well-loved movie star. F Murray Abraham makes a guest appearance.

EMPIRE | 5STAR 10PM

The musical drama featuring the exploits of the Lyon family returns, and it's straight into the action as Lucious is drugged and kidnapped by deranged nurse Claudia (the brilliant Demi Moore), and Cookie launches a rescue attempt.

Reading between the lines

Thanks to his post sex-tape fame (infamy?), Matt is now drowning in offers for new TV projects. When he asks Sean's guidance on the scripts being pitched to him, the advice he receives runs thus: "Eliminate every one where you're

'recently divorced' or 'a former' something, who 'reluctantly' agrees to do something, especially if you're 'forced to move in with' someone." Unfortunately, that doesn't leave Matt with much – and more than anything, he wants to work with Sean and Beverly again. Meanwhile, Beverly has finally persuaded Carol to venture outside. She takes a trip to the doughnut shop, but an unexpected encounter sends Carol running for cover once again...

Building relationships

LEE AND DEAN | Channel 4 10PM

The builders' latest job brings them to the house of a gay couple, and while Lee thinks they're great – to the point of happily stripping down to his trunks and joining them in the hot tub – the job forces Dean to confront some complicated feelings head-on. He's particularly uneasy when Lee decides to take a look at one of the couple's porn videos in the interest of all-important "customer relations". Meanwhile, an unlikely (and dangerous) friendship blossoms between Nikki and Mrs Bryce-D'Souza, when they go out for a liquid lunch – and the rest of the firm takes a shine to Mrs Bryce D'Souza's husband.

LOST IN SPACE | Netflix

The campy 1960s US TV series about a group of space colonists gets a shiny, non-campy reboot in this new 10-part Netflix drama. Taking place 30 years in the future, it follows the Robinson clan on their way to a new life – but their voyage is disrupted and their ship crash-lands on an unknown planet. To ensure their survival, they'll need to align themselves with the other marooned inhabitants of the planet – including the manipulative Dr Smith.

YOUNG MUSICIAN 2018 | BBC4 730PM

Five finalists aged 15-18 in the Percussion Category compete in tonight's round at the Royal Birmingham Conservatoire, hosted by Josie d'Arby and percussionist Joby Burgess. Who will impress the judges and reach the semi-final?

NASHVILLE | Sky Living 9PM

Daphne is struggling to accept Deacon and Jessie's romance, but Jessie's not ready to give up on her yet. Meanwhile, the new addition to Avery, Gunnar and Will's band is a big hit, and Scarlett finds another stranger with the voice of an angel.

IN and OUT

We spin soap's revolving door...

QASIM AKHTAR

OUT (Zeedan Nazir, Corrie)

It's goodbye to Zeedan, as the tricky love triangle with wife Rana and her new girlfriend Kate leads to big drama this summer. Qasim has been spotted filming scenes where Zeedan spies on his rival Kate – so is he plotting to destroy the happiness of his ex and her new lover? “Qasim is a talented actor,” declares a Coronation Street spokesperson. “We wish him every success for the future.” Summer

ROXY SHAHIDI

(Leyla Harding, Emmerdale)

IN Roxy may be currently off on maternity leave, but her co-star Amy Walsh – who plays Tracy – is already looking forward to her on-screen rival's return, following the shock revelation that Leyla slept with her hubby David. “I think she's got a lot to answer for and a lot to make up for!” chuckles Amy. Later this year

MADDY HILL

(Ruby, Casualty)

IN We know her as Mick and Linda Carter's feisty daughter Nancy, but the ex-EastEnders will soon be a regular in the medical drama – playing a plucky paramedic. June

RICHARD BLACKWOOD

(Vincent Hubbard, EastEnders)

OUT He's soon to bow out as Vincent, but Richard is philosophical about his departure from the soap after three years. “EastEnders is its [own] movie, I'm a character within it,” he says. “My character within that movie had to leave.” Check out our exclusive interview with Richard in next week's issue of Inside Soap. Later this month

THE EX FILES!

What are the one-time stars of soap up to now?

GOOD IN THE HOOD

Former Emmerdale star Ben Freeman has admitted that he "lost two years of [his] life" before he was cleared of rape in 2008. The ordeal saw him lose his job as Dales bad boy Scott Windsor, but Ben has gone on to rebuild his career with high-profile stage roles. This year, he will star as great British legend Robin Hood in new film Robin Hood: The Rebellion, which will also feature renowned actor Brian Blessed.

LOOK WHO'S STALKING!

Watch out for ex-Coronation Street star Graeme Hawley on your telly, when he pops up in Benidorm this week. The actor – who played John Stape, serial killer and hapless former hubby of Fiz – will be Simon Superfan, who is an obsessive stalker of Shane Richie's (aka EastEnders' Alfie Moon) character, Sammy Valentino. Talk about keeping it in the soap family!

REID ALL ABOUT IT!

We're used to seeing him with slicked back hair and greasy overalls, but EastEnders' Harry Reid – aka Ben Mitchell – has unveiled a new look for his latest stage role. The actor is starring in the Agatha Christie play Witness For The Prosecution, where he rocks a natty double-breasted costume and as he describes it, a "curly barnet". Suits you sir!

FILM

RAMPAGE

Dwayne Johnson stars in this spectacular monster movie as Davis Okoye – who shares an unbreakable bond with his best friend, George the gorilla. When a rogue experiment mutates George, it sends him on a rampage – meaning David has to save the world and protect the fearsome creature that used to be his friend.

BLU-RAY

BREATHLESS
Richard Gere and Valerie Kaprisky star in this stylish, sexy film. Fleeing to Mexico after becoming a fugitive for killing a police officer in Vegas, Jesse meets beautiful French student Monica – and seduces her into coming along for the ride.

BOOK

TOO CLOSE TO BREATHE

by Olivia Kiernan
Taking on what she thinks is a suicide case, DCS Frankie Sheehan soon realises she's on the trail of a serial killer – forcing her to confront her own demons as the line between murderer and victim is blurred.

STAR CHOICE

Ramsay Street's Scarlet Vas (Mishti)

"My favourite television series has to be The Vampire Diaries. I love it, and want to watch all eight series again and again as it's so good. I love vampire themes and the acting is great, especially from the three main actors – Ian Somerhalder, Nina Dobrev and Paul Wesley. Also, the storylines and the twists and turns are incredible!"

DVD

LIES WE TELL

When his billionaire boss Demi (Harvey Keitel) dies, driver Donald (Gabriel Byrne) is given one last job: wipe out any evidence of Demi's relationship with his mistress, Amber. But when Amber's life is threatened, Donald soon becomes her reluctant protector.

BOOK

LETTERS TO IRIS

by Elizabeth Noble

Tess has a secret, and she can only confide in her grandmother, Iris – who is slipping further away each day. After finding a suitcase of letters, Tess discovers Iris has a secret of her own, and sets out to find the truth...

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

Joe initially seduced Debbie just so he could ruin her life. Then she planned to have him brutally scarred for life with acid. But still, it's all: "I've never loved anyone like this!". Hmm... soap relationships don't come any more screwed up!

Rejoice! Baby Johnny lives! We'd begun to worry that he'd entirely fallen through the cracks after mum Vanessa's 3,000 per cent storyline upgrade to 'Charity's lesbian lover'.

We love that Kat keeps referring to Karen as 'Waynetta Slob'. What's the betting they end up as best mates?

Most Wasted Character Of The Week was Emmerdale's Voldemort the snake. Home and Away would have got a whole week of mayhem out of him. Think of all the Dales folk he could have bitten on the backside! (Starting with Bob.)

BULLSEYE!

Well, we all knew it was coming... but truly, nothing could have prepared us for the absolute corker that was Phelan's cliff-top lighthouse showdown with Eileen. Star Connor McIntyre was in a league of his own in what will surely go down as one of the greatest scenes in Corrie history. Take a bow, you supremely talented man... And bring on Phelan's revenge!

No wonder Jacob is upset, the poor lad. All three of his sort-of mums have now been driven away thanks to David's inability to keep it in his pants.

Carla can scoff down all the Junior Happy Meals she likes – it's clearly only prime beef that truly sets her juices flowing.

Summer wants to be an astronomer when she grows up. She's clearly keen to find a more warm and nurturing environment than Weatherfield. Perhaps the dark side of Pluto.

We think EastEnders is on to a winner with Keegan's charming-but-edgy dad, Mitch. He's very watchable.

All this talk of Richard Hillman has us planning ways he could return. How about a Dallas-style shocker that sees him pop up in Gail's shower, after she wakes from a terrible dream?

Until the formal coroner's report is in, we can only assume that Joyce was bored to death by her husband's chess obsession.
